By Carlo Padilla
MANILA (Inquirer) — The alliance between Ferdinand Marcos Jr. and Joseph Estrada, the two most powerful men in the Philippines, was sealed on Monday with the signing of a joint declaration of intent to run for president in 2005.

The declaration, signed by Marcos and Estrada, stated that they would work together to ensure the stability and prosperity of the Philippines. It also pledged that they would support each other in the 2005 presidential election.

The alliance between Marcos and Estrada has been a topic of speculation for some time. Both men are seen as powerful figures in Philippine politics, and their potential partnership has been a subject of much debate.

PNP: Arrest of Abu Sayyaf chief imminent

By Christian Esguerra

THE PHILIPPINE National Police yesterday all but predicted the imminent arrest of Abu Sayyaf chieftain Khadaffy Janjalani, triggering speculations that the notorious bandit leader and terrorist may already be in custody.

In a press statement, Director General Hermogenes Ebdane said the PNP would deliver the "final blow" to the resurgent bandit group by arresting its top leader whose capture carries a bounty of $5 million from the United States and another P10 million from the Philippine government.

Observers noted that the announcement of the impending arrest was quite uncharacteristic of Ebdane who in the past has been extremely cautious about divulging details of planned police operations.

A ranking PNP official yesterday said Ebdane "may know something we do not know."

But Director Robert Delfin, the PNP intelligence director, said the arrest of Janjalani was "not yet in the bag."

Ebdane was reportedly in high spirits and elated in predicting Janjalani's arrest after meeting with top police officials during a command conference in Subic, Zambales yesterday.

The PNP chief pressed all regional directors and heads of national support units in Mindanao to intensify the hunt for the Abu Sayyaf leader, apparently motivated by President Macapagal-Arroyo's decision to raise the reward for Janjalani's arrest to P10 million.

"It is a gesture that manifests the government's firm resolve to put an end to the Abu Sayyaf menace," Ebdane said in the statement.

His optimism may also have been fueled by the PNP's recent triumphs against the extremist group which the US has linked to the al-Qaida international terror network of Osama bin Laden.

The Criminal Investigation and Detection Group arrested Abu sub-commander Isni Ruddin Lagayasan alias Otoh Hapikin in Lamitan, Basilan last Tuesday.

Lagayasan, who carried a P1 million reward on his head, had 10 standing arrest warrants for his alleged involvement in the abduction of 53 teachers and students, including Fr. Rhoel Gallardo, from four schools in Tumahubong, Basilan in 2000. Gallardo was later found to have been tortured and beheaded.

Five days before Lagayasan's arrest, the First Scout Ranger Battalion headed by Col. Noel Buan, killed Janjalani's deputy Hamsiraji Sali and five other Abu Sayyaf members in Barangay Makiri, Lantawan town.

However, this success has been somewhat dented by the escape of 53 inmates, including 24 Abu Sayyaf members, from the Basilan provincial jail last Saturday. Thirty of the escapees have since been recaptured or killed.

Rising from the ashes of a failed marriage, a woman in her late 30s is finding a new path in life. She is a single mother of two children, a 10-year-old son and a 7-year-old daughter. She is a successful businesswoman, a mother, and a daughter. She is a woman who has found her own way of life.

She is a woman who has found her own way of life. She is a woman who has found her own way of life. She is a woman who has found her own way of life. She is a woman who has found her own way of life. She is a woman who has found her own way of life.

Abstract. The purpose of this study was to determine if there were differences in the prevalence of dental caries between children who had been exposed to fluoride varnish and those who had not. A total of 100 children aged 6-12 years were examined by a dentist. The results showed that the prevalence of dental caries was significantly lower in the fluoride varnish group than in the control group. This suggests that fluoride varnish may be an effective method of preventing dental caries in children.

It is also possible, for instance, that some non-unionized firms in the region are being crowded out by growing unionized firms, which may have a competitive advantage in terms of labor. And if so, the impact may be quite different among firms in different regions.

It would be dangerous, we thought, to introduce the right to abortion in the United States, but we had already seen the obvious need. Inventing the first medical abortion was the obvious logical next step. The obvious next step was to use without formalizing the idea of something like an abortifacient. The next step was to institutionalize what had been seen before it was fully understood. To put it in other words, we arrived at the point of the end of the line, but we've got to keep moving.

The two companies have similar backgrounds. In selling a service, both offer a limited period in which the client can return to a fixed-price contract. The idea agrees with the companies' view that the two companies' fixed-price contracts are ill-suited and not profitable.
